Information

1. On 3 May 1955, railroad men who accompanied freight trains to Horka stated that jet bombers were stationed at Rothenburg airfield, and that about 2,000 Soviet soldiers were quartered at the field and in its vicinity. ¹ 25X1
2. According to local residents, two trains with a total of about 1,600 AA soldiers and artillery pieces arrived in Lodenau at about 0400 on 2 and 3 June 1955. The AA guns were covered with tarpaulins and seemed to be former German guns of 88-mm caliber. ² 25X1
3. Local residents adjacent to the field stated that Rothenburg airfield was occupied by about 27 Il-28s in early June 1955. 25X1
4. During a rail trip to Frankfurt/Oder, an air force captain stationed in Rothenburg stated that his family lived in Kharkov and that he and quite a number of his comrades were very angry about the fact that they had to stay in Germany. The captain had been stationed in Wiener Neustadt for 3 to 4 years. He also said that officer dependents were expected to arrive in Rothenburg. 25X1
5. On 3 June, two Soviet soldiers who were intoxicated got into a fire truck on the market place in Rothenburg, and drove it at a high speed in the vicinity, then returned to the market place and crashed into a bakery which was considerably damaged. The assistant driver was seriously injured and the driver fled.
1. Comment. It is believed that Rothenburg airfield is occupied by a bomber regiment equipped with about 30 Il-28s or U-Il-28s. 25X1
2. Comment. The information on the shipments, though not yet confirmed, is believed to be correct. The artillery pieces presumably were 85-mm guns. The reported number of AA soldiers appears to be too high since not more than two batteries are believed to be used for AA protection at an airfield. 25X1
